

All-Day Legion Meet Handles Much Business

Aurora—Col. Godfrey M. Fitzgerald, Orangeville, was re-elected district commander of District E, Canadian Legion, at the first annual district rally in the Aurora Armory on Sunday. The proceedings started with an impressive church parade on Sunday morning under the command of Major N. F. Johnson. The salute was taken in front of the post office by Edward S. Evans, first vice president of the Ontario command. There were 165 Legionnaires on parade. The service at Trinity Anglican church was most impressive. Erle Burgess, president of the Ontario command, presented a wreath to the church which was accepted by the rector, Rev. R. K. Perdue. Last Post and Reveille were sounded by a quartet of buglers from the Aurora high school cadet band at the church entrance. Then came the acceptance of colors as ten sets of branch colors were received, the Aurora colors being placed on the altar. "The Christian religion properly lived and exemplified by its adherents, provides for the world all we fought and died for. We must be on our guard against those who threaten our institutions and our religion," declared Rev. R. F. T. Braln, M.C., who preached the sermon. He charged veterans to assume their place in the community and the church to make for a better world. The flowers on the altar were given by members of Elma Rebekah Lodge in memory of their departed members. Mayor Speaks President John Sisman of Branch 385, Aurora, introduced Mayor Ross Linton at the luncheon and extended the branch

CO-OP SEEKS PERMISSION TO BUILD SIDING

Newmarket—Delegates from the Newmarket District Co-operative were instructed on Monday night to contact a railway company engineer to get an expert opinion on whether or not a siding which they had mapped out was feasible before they asked council for permission to have the siding cross town lands. The delegates approached the Newmarket town council a week ago with a request for an option on a lot next to International Wood, but decision on the matter had been withheld. At the meeting of the council on Monday night Councillor George M. Byers said it was the unanimous opinion of the industrial committee that it would be unfair to release the land to the co-operative. "We are at present negotiating with another industry to have it come to Newmarket, and the land upon which the co-operative wants an option is the last industrial site which the town owns. We have been waiting for an industry which would employ 30 or 40 people." One of the delegation, J. P. Jefferson said that another lot had been found which would be satisfactory if it were served by railway facilities, and asked that the council express an opinion as to whether the town would contribute to the cost of a siding. Harold Ghent said the co-operative had already obtained an option on the land, but asked for definite assurance that the town has the right to extend a siding from the Hoffman crossing. "The siding would have to come off the Hoffman bridge, would touch the back end of property owned by Bender's and International Wood, and would then have to cross town property," he said. "Other industries might contribute to the cost of the siding, but if they did not they would not be allowed to use it free." "At the back of the property owned by Bender's and International Wood there is a strip of land 70 feet wide which the siding would have to cross. It would then have to cut the town lot right in two," Mayor Vale said. "I suggest that Mr. Ghent contact a railway engineer and bring him here as an expert on the matter so that we will know what can be done," Councillor Byers said. "It would be useless for us to ask an engineer to come and then find that you would not allow us to cross the land in any case," Mr. Williams said. He was assured of the council's desire to co-operate.

Aurora Horse Show

Despite pouring rain for a good part of the show, and a slippery terrain which made competition difficult, Aurora carried on, on Saturday, with its 25th show, and attracted a crowd estimated at about 2,500. Rain insurance and the gate will leave the show in a fair financial position on the day. Despite the difficulties encountered, the calibre of entries was high, and many an accident marred the day, no mean feat at the best of times in the hunter classes. There were 218 entries in the light horse division as compared to 68 last year, and it took until 3:30 to complete the last event. In the heavy horse classes, because of the incessant rain of the past few weeks, entries were down because the farmers did not have a chance to prepare their horses for the show. The ladies' section was well entered and the high school, where the show was held, was packed to capacity most of the day. Baldy, a trick horse ridden by Bob Empringham, and Pesky, another trick equine ridden by Alan Empringham, caught the fancy of the crowd with their special acts. The midway was well patronized, especially the food booths. Aurora Boys' Band provided the music. In the evening a fair-sized crowd attended the dance in the armory. Heber Down, Brooklyn, Me-

STOP LOT SALE TO PREVENT 'TWO WRONGS'

Newmarket—"Two wrongs do not make a right, and just because we made a mistake once, that is no reason why we should make the same mistake again," Mayor Joseph Vale told the Newmarket town council on Monday night. He referred to Basil Watson's protest against the return by the town of the money that he had paid for lot 34 on Wesley St., and its refusal to pass a by-law selling the land to him. "I received a letter from the clerk saying that the town had decided to take the lot back, and I would like to know the reason," Mr. Watson said. "I want to retain the lot." Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said that the town had sold Watson the lot next to the one in question, and Watson had moved a house there which had been purchased from the camp. "Later Mr. Watson asked Clerk Wesley Brooks and myself if he could buy lot 34, and we said that he could, but we later found that building restrictions provided that the lot could not be sold unless a house worth $2,500 were to be built on it," he said. Mrs. Watson interrupted and said she heard that the sale had been refused because people had complained that their first house had not been "fixed up."

Luck's Roadway Plan Squelched By Council

Newmarket—A motion upon which discussion has been deferred for several weeks was finally brought before the Newmarket town council on Monday night, but it was soundly defeated. The motion, moved by Councillor H. J. Luck and seconded by Councillor Caroline Edwards, was worded as follows: "That a by-law be prepared for the expropriation of lands and buildings for a 66' roadway from Park Ave. to D'Arcy St. Said lands and buildings being the old T. and Y. railroad right-of-way and buildings adjoining same. Also to acquire land running diagonally from Church St. and D'Arcy St. to Eagle St., with one property to be acquired to complete the roadway, namely 50 Eagle St. and lot adjoining." Speaking to the motion, Councillor Luck said, "This is definitely a progressive movement and one that will benefit the town in numerous ways. It will relieve the present congestion on the Main St., will provide new business sites of which the town is sorely in need and will relieve the present parking situation by the provision of three loops. Only one of the properties to be acquired will be expensive. The roadway will bring more business to town. There are no business sites left in town at present and this would provide many new ones. In a very few years the increased assessment which will result from the move will more than cover the present costs to the town." Councillor Edwards said she felt the plan was worth consideration if only as a move to relieve the present traffic congestion. "I would like to see the roadway go beyond Park Ave., but this will be a good start, worthy of consideration," she said. Go to Queen St. Councillor R. C. Morrison said that if the plan took the proposed roadway beyond Park he would agree, "but to dump the traffic at the corner of Main and Park, on an up-hill grade, at a spot which is already one of the town's worst bottlenecks, would not be feasible. The roadway should go down at least as far as Main and Queen Sts." Councillor Luck said he was not trying to rush the project through. "It should come before the public, but they should have sufficient time to digest it. It should then be submitted to them at the next election. I agree with Councillor Morrison that the roadway should eventually go to Queen St. but even the plan as it is now is a big advancement. There is little possibility of the land north of Park Ave. being changed to a very great degree but the property which this motion covers will cost a lot more in a year or two." Councillor Tom Birrell said that because of the present bottleneck at the corner of Main

Vets March To Cemetery For Decoration Day Rites

Newmarket—An event which has been observed annually for over 20 years was again marked on June 15, when the Newmarket Veterans' Association paraded to Newmarket Cemetery for the Decoration Day Services. The Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion and the Canadian Corps color party of sixty members joined in the parade and service. The parade assembled at the market square and moved off at 3 p.m. with the Newmarket Citizens' Band in the lead. A was a colorful spectacle with the veterans wearing their berets, arm bands and medals, and the color party resplendent in blue blazers and white trousers, each carrying a different flag and wearing the beret of his own unit. The service at the cemetery was conducted by Rev. Henry Cotton with 200 Newmarket citizens present. Jack Wright, president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, read three verses of "O Valiant Hearts." Aubrey Seythes, president of the Newmarket Legion, spoke briefly on the duty of those who are left to those who gave their lives in service of Canada. Wreaths were placed by Mr. Wright and Mr. Seythes on behalf of their organizations. An appeal was made by J. Beaton, Canadian Corps, on behalf of the Forget-me-not Tag Day which takes place in Newmarket Saturday, June 21. The impressive ceremony of the burning torch, the emblem of the Corps, followed. The flag was lowered to half mast while the Last Post was sounded and two minutes of silence was observed. The flag was then raised with the sounding of "Reveille."

Await Hope Report Ere Making H.S. Area Decision

Newmarket—The town council decided on Monday night that it would wait for the report of the Hope Commission on education before it requested the formation of the proposed Newmarket high school area. Chief arguments against the proposal were that no estimates had been made available to the council of the costs that such a proposition would involve, and no definite information had been made obtainable concerning the curriculum of the proposed school or of its advantages. At the council meeting on June 9, members of the council went on record as being undecided about the formation of the area, and in a subsequent meeting of representatives of Georgian, East Gwillimbury, North Gwillimbury, Whitechurch, Sutton and Newmarket, had refrained from voting when motions were introduced to make Sutton and Newmarket separate areas. Later in the week, the Department of Education issued a statement that it would not approve high school areas for districts where the total assessment was less than $5,000,000 which would eliminate the proposed areas in Markham, Richmond Hill, Scarborough, Stou-ville and Sutton. "S. G. Rendalls of the department of education told us before that it was his recommendation that Sutton and Newmarket unite to form an area, and the discussions on June 10 were based on the fact that it was only a recommendation to be considered. Now the department tells us that Sutton cannot form an area by itself," Reeve Arthur Evans said. "I do not like the way the department is handling this thing. It looks as though they are trying to force something on us," Deputy-Reeve Spillette said. "We have a big enough assessment to form an area without Sutton," Mrs. Edwards said. "The consultative committee has now recommended that we wait for the report of the Hope Commission," Reeve Evans said.

$1,500 Not Enough To Get Experienced Teachers-Case

Newmarket—Resignations of two more public school teachers were received at the meeting of the Newmarket public school board on Friday night and Dr. G. E. Case reported that only two replacements had been secured. "The trouble is that any girl with experience will not work for $1,500 (the minimum salary for women teachers according to the new salary schedule)," Dr. Case said. "The only answer seems to be to hire teachers just graduating from normal school. We need four more teachers as the situation is now." The board instructed Dr. Case to advertise for four more teachers, stating that recent graduates will be acceptable. Mrs. N. L. Mathews reported that the property committee had visited the Stuart Scott and King George schools but had not had time to visit the Alexander Muir school. She said that arrangements have been made to have the schools equipped with telephones during the first week in September. Secretary-Treasurer Robert Pritchard was instructed to send a letter of appreciation to the firemen for the part they played when they acted as ushers at the Spring Festival Concert. A cheque was received from the Home and School Association to help pay for the projector which the board purchased for use in the three schools. Two applications were made for the position of school attendance officer, which was vacated recently by Mrs. O. P. Hamilton after 21 years' service. No decision was made on the matter. H. A. Jackson, supervising principal of the three public schools, reported that at the present time there are 612 children enrolled. During the month of May the percentage of attendance was 95.4. A total of 598 1/2 days were lost during the month, of which 480 were considered lawful. Estimates were also received for the cost of fire escapes for the schools but no decisions were made.

MUST OIL BUDGET TO PAY ROAD OIL

Newmarket—Councillor Frank Bowser told the Newmarket town council on Monday night that his committee needed another car of about 6,000 gallons of oil to complete its program for oiling the roads. "It will cost about $1,000 and the amount was not provided for in the budget," he said. "I want the approval of the council before I spend the money." "Only $1,200 was provided in the budget for the purpose and we have already used that amount. The reason that we need so much more this year than last year is that we have many more miles of road to do, the continuation of Park Ave., and also the roads around the camp. The whole town has paid taxes for the oil that has already been used, and if we do not buy any more oil, only half of the town will receive any benefit. It would be unfair to the other half of the town." A motion was passed authorizing the purchase of another car of oil. Newmarket—Mrs. S. Sheppard has moved to town from Holland Landing.

Industries Offer Time Off For Free T.B. Chest Clinic

Newmarket—A. N. Belugin, chairman of the publicity committee for the forthcoming tuberculosis clinic campaign, told the committee chairman on Thursday night that he had contacted all of the major industries in town, and said that the management of the Davis Leather Company, Dixon Pencil Company, International Wood Products Company, and Hoffman Machinery Company had agreed to allow employees time off during working hours to be X-rayed. "The management of the Office Specialty Manufacturing Company said that it would urge its employees to have their X-rays on Saturday morning," he said. "I have not been able to contact the management of the Sangamo Company yet. I have also contacted Jack Wright, president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, and I gave him material to read at a joint meeting of the Vets and the Legion." Dates of the clinic, which is being sponsored by the Newmarket board of health, are July 18-24 inclusive. H. J. Luck said that he had contacted the Lions Club and the management of the Strand Theatre and had obtained their assurance of co-operation, and had spoken to Delbert Gibney of the Era and Express concerning newspaper advertising. Dr. J. Gordon Cock, chairman of the Newmarket board of health, said that Dr. Wicks, of the Gage Institute, which will conduct the clinic, had held out

RECOMMENDS NEW PUMPER

Newmarket—The Newmarket town council on Monday night received a letter from the office of the fire marshal, in which it was recommended that the town purchase a new pumper capable of pumping water at the rate of 600 gallons a minute, and that the small pumper which the town already owns be overhauled.

Fix Your Hair After Hours? Nix Lady, I'll Be Fined

Newmarket—Hairdressors in Newmarket will no longer be permitted to remain open on Wednesday afternoons, unless they wish to risk a $25 fine for the first offence or a $50 fine for subsequent offences. The Newmarket town council on Monday night passed a by-law in response to a petition signed by four-fifths of the town's beauty parlor operators, regulating the hours in which they may do business. The by-law ruled that the hairdressing shops and beauty parlors must remain closed on Wednesday afternoons but could be open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings during the year, and Saturday evenings during July and August. Wesley Tobey, spokesman for the delegation, said the hairdressers want regular closing hours, and until recently had had an unwritten agreement concerning them. "However, another shop has opened and has refused to abide by the agreement, and we felt that a by-law was necessary to protect the rest of us," he said. The petition, as originally introduced, asked that in default of payment of the fine, an offender be sent to jail for a 21-day term. Mayor Vale suggested that the petition be amended and the clause omitted. Reeve Evans agreed. "I think that 21 days is a little too long for an offence of this kind to," Councillor Bowser said. "I think seven days would be plenty."

SALUTE TO AGRICULTURE

This is the second annual agricultural issue of The Era and Express, our share in the national "Salute to Agriculture" which is being sponsored for a second year by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, and joined in by weekly newspapers across Canada.

In presenting this issue, we believe that we are not only making the public more aware of the importance of the farmer to the national economy, but we are bringing much needed publicity to his accomplishments of the past and his hopes for the future.

Mr. H. H. Hannan, managing director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, has said that the function of a weekly newspaper such as The Era and Express is to act as a connecting link between rural and urban Canada. By farm editions such as this one, containing news of farm activity throughout the district and reports and statements from farm leaders and other public men, as well as by the week-to-week accounting of rural life, that function is being fulfilled throughout Canada.

We regret that it is not possible to make this issue as large as the previous one, certainly it is not because the farmers are any the less deserving of tribute. Unfortunately, we are limited by production difficulties which, while in the process of solution now, have not yet been completely cleared away. Nonetheless, size is no indication of the sincerity of our tribute to the farmers of this district, of all Canada, for the job they have been doing in producing the food to feed a hungry world. To them, in a very large measure, must go the credit for the salvation of thousands of lives and the construction of a firmer foundation for a lasting peace.

ON KEEPING FARM BOOKS

Farming is often called "a way of life" and glorified as such. It may be all of that but it is also a business and to be successful, must be operated in a business-like manner. No business can be successful if the cost of operating it exceeds the revenues from it. Most farmers know to the cent the money they earn during a year, but we wonder just how many of them can give a full accounting of their costs.

There is only one way of knowing how much a farm costs to operate and that is by keeping books just as other businesses do. But many farmers won't keep books because they say they haven't the time or the education—and there are some farmers who say it is just a waste of time. Those are the farmers who go on with the same old implements even though they may be costing them money in time and labor to operate, or who keep the same old stock even though they eat more than they produce. If the farmer hasn't any record of what it is costing him to use those implements or maintain that stock, how is he to know whether it is costing him money or not?

No man becomes a farmer because he wants to get rich quickly and easily. And no man remains a farmer when he labors from dawn to dusk and has nothing to show for it. But before a farm can consistently give its owner and his family a comfortable living the farmer must know what he is paying out and what he is taking in. To know that, he must keep his books just like any other business.

The government farm departments have spent a lot of time and research in setting up easy-to-figure forms for farm book-keeping. They have calculated the costs on all phases of farm operation so that if a farmer has no previous records, they can supply a close estimate to get him started. They know what the farmer experiences and they have anticipated those problems in an effort to make farm accounting easier. The excuses of lack of time and energy or lack of education are no longer good. There never was an excuse for indifference.

But if common sense doesn't indicate the need for proper farm book-keeping, then let the indifferent farmer consider that the day will come when he no longer has a seller's market and competition begins to get tough. It will be the farmer who operates in a business-like fashion who is going to stay on his farm and continue to enjoy a "way of life." The indifferent farmer is going into debt and finally on to the relief roll.

SOME OTTAWA JOTTINGS

We spent last weekend in Ottawa attending the annual convention of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association—and a most enjoyable weekend it was, made more so by the return of pre-war standards of service in railway trains and hotels. Our hosts, the management of the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa and the C.N.R. while en route, left nothing to be desired in their attention to the travelers' needs.

The meeting offered a full agenda. There were talks by fellow editors and publishers on various aspects of the weekly newspaper. Mr. Gratton O'Leary, associate editor of the Ottawa Journal, spoke to us as did a host of others, both in and out of journalism. Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa extended an official welcome and reminded us that while Ottawa was the capital of Canada, it was also a municipality with all the problems of a municipality including a traffic congestion and a tax-rate. We felt quite at home listening to Mayor Lewis.

As a matter of fact, Ottawa is experiencing something reminiscent of earlier efforts to ease traffic congestion on Newmarket's Main St. The Ottawa council has tried a number of plans for rerouting traffic, prohibiting parking during certain hours, making certain streets one-way thoroughfares, and so on. To us, it appeared that the variety of plans has so confused the Ottawa drivers that in a fit of desperation, they grit their teeth and drive in the straightest line at their fastest clip to their destination—and heaven help the pedestrian.

What proved to be the most enjoyable part of the convention was a reception for the weekly publishers and their wives at Rideau Hall. The Governor-General and Lady Alexander were most charming and showed a lively interest in their guests. The visit lasted close to two hours and included a tour of the gardens which were just coming into bloom. Canada is fortunate in having such gracious occupants in Government House. A growing concern among the guests over what manner of address to use was quickly dispelled by the informality of the affair. Nothing could have been more pleasant.

Ottawa was still discussing President Truman's visit when we arrived. The president left Thursday night and the closest we were to him was when somewhere between Ottawa and Toronto his train passed ours. However, in the reports of his sincerity and his smile, which apparently impressed every Ottawa woman who saw it, we feel that we have come to know him quite intimately.

Certainly he did a good deal to dispel a sense of inferiority that seems to exist among some Canadians in their relation to the United States. By his emphatic reference to American reliance upon Canada in the pursuit of a common goal, he did much to boost the national ego although there will still be many other Americans who think of Canada as a vast expanse north of the 49th parallel inhabited only by bears, moose and tourist home proprietors—yes, and Canadians who will continue to subordinate their own country before the accomplishments of our neighbor.

But while everyone was expressing great admiration for the president, they were still chuckling over the number of secret service men that accompanied him, and who went to fantastic lengths to be sure nothing would go amiss. It is the law in the United States that the president be guarded by a special detail of secret service agents, a not unreasonable precaution when the number of assassinations and attempted assassinations against American presidents is remembered. To Ottawa citizens who are accustomed to seeing all manner of notables on the streets without even a suggestion of protection, the activities of the American guards were cause of considerable amusement.

An additional highlight of the trip was the extent to which preparations for the Marian Congress have been undertaken. Fifty special trains have been set aside to transport the visitors, estimated as high as 200,000. Many homes are decorated for the event and the church spires are lit at night. Our departure from Ottawa coincided with the arrival of several church dignitaries from Europe to attend the congress and the crowds at the station were reminiscent of the years during the war.

THE COMMON ROUND IN LILAC TIME

By ISRAEL INGLIS COLVILLE

When we look round this green, green world, with its embroidery of white and rose, mauve and gold, it is hard to realize that nowhere in the world is there real peace.

The birds sing, the sun shines and the flowers bloom and send their incense heavenward, but underneath all this loveliness and seeming quiet one hears the growling of discontent, the cries of hunger, the distant throbbing of war drums and the threat of the atom bomb hangs like the sword of Damocles over the heads of the nations.

But beauty, like music, has power to soothe, and if anyone can tell me of anything lovelier than the mingled scents of apple blossoms and lilacs, I wish he would. For the scent of the lilacs is perceptible before the bloom really opens, and while the white and rose umbrellas of the apple trees are still in all their glory of color and perfume.

And lilac time seems a good time to have a Women's Institute meeting; the roads are good, the summer is before us, there is a consciousness of work well done and much interesting and needful work ahead.

It was a rather hilarious meeting at first as we strove to cope with arrangements for our trip to Guelph. To eat this or not to eat that—that was one of the questions. What would carry best, be most appetizing and satisfying for picnic meals for a day?

However we really made a decision at last—sandwiches of course, tomatoes, celery, radishes, tarts, cookies and bananas. Paper plates and cups and serviettes, which would entail no carrying of dishes, except, perhaps, a spoon in our purses.

Two of us had received letters from recipients of boxes sent to Britain. It warms one's heart to hear how much they are appreciated. In the boxes we sent them were babies' clothes as well as those for adults and the letter I received told of how thankful they were taken over by the mother of a family of small children. The letters told of the discomfort, of the terrific heat which followed the cold and the floods, but there was little complaint and much thankfulness for the kindly thought which prompted the sending of the boxes.

There was a little talk on the difference between the doctors of a past day with their intimate knowledge of your background and family history, and the up to date, efficient and more matter-of-fact doctors of today. A paper on current events was read by Mrs. Foster and Miss Dora McClure. The roll call, well responded to, was "an old fashioned remedy". There was a sing-song of old melodies and a difficult but interesting contest conducted by Mrs. Harry Hunt; this, on "famous quotations".

There were six children present and they had a glorious time on the lawn. They also interviewed the cats and generally conducted themselves as budding investigators should.

Honeysuckle and lilacs tapped on the windows and a little oasis of peace in a chaotic world made the summer afternoon one to look back on with very real pleasure.

GO ON BIKE TRIP
Newmarket—Bill Hillaby, Jr., and Peter Westcott left Monday on a bicycle trip around Lake Simcoe to Collingwood. They reached Collingwood the first day.

Newmarket's other hardball club, the midjets, sponsored by the Newmarket Lions, came through last night in their first winning over Aurora midjets by a 12-8 margin.

Around Town

About the men and women you meet around town almost every day.

ELTON ARMSTRONG

Elton Armstrong would like to build a bacon hog so that Canada will have a hog with no waste flesh, with a majority of lean meat, one that will sell in England with a premium over all other hogs built in the world. It is his belief, too, that the Ayrshire cow can be built to give a four percent product and also to produce as well as a Holstein.

"I believe that it would be easier to build up the quantity of the milk given by the Ayrshire to that of the Holstein, than it would be to build up the butterfat capacity of the Holstein to that of the Ayrshire," he says. "Ayrshires are the most economical producers of four percent milk. They are very hardy and consume a lot of roughage, food that they forage for themselves."

"The fat globules in the milk of the Ayrshire are much smaller than those in any other four percent milk, making it much more easily digested by invalids or babies. The demand for Ayrshires is keen and they generally sell for a lower price than do Holsteins. The demand is increasing since the end of the war and there seems to be a growing demand for a four percent product."

"The average mature tested Ayrshire produces about 10,000 lbs. of milk a year but some go as high as 30,000 lbs." Elton says that the first thing he did when he started to build his Ayrshire herd was to bloodtest every cow for Bang's disease. "Since then I have never brought a cow home until it has been tested and my herds have been free from Bang's disease since 1928," he continued.

"When they started testing cows for tuberculosis in 1932, all of the 52 cows that I had then were found to be clean. My herd has been clean ever since. I have been gradually building a herd for appearance and for high production of both milk and butterfat and I expect to accomplish my ambition with regard to the Ayrshire cow in about 1999."

The purebred Percheron gelding pictured with Elton is a five-year-old and weighs a ton. Elton likes Percherons "because they are easy feeding and docile and are good farm workers. The Percheron News says 'the Percheron horse his commercial wants to please; weighs a ton and trots with ease'". Elton is a director of Percheron Breeders.

Elton is also a successful breeder of Yorkshire hogs. He owns Shur-Gain Molly 221X which was bred and raised by the Shur-Gain farm at Downsview. Elton bought her as a six-month-old gilt and on March 7, 1946, she produced her highest litter of 20 living pigs, ten males and ten females.

Elton was born in York county of Irish and Scotch descent. "My people came from Scotland to Ireland and then to Canada in Simcoe's time," he said. "My great-great-grandfather was a brigadier general and I still have his old trunk with some of his effects." Elton was born in Aurora in 1897 but his family moved to Bogartown shortly after and Elton attended Bogartown and Alexander Muir schools. He then took short courses in mechanical drawing and in bookkeeping and joined the Junior Farmers under the guidance of Professor Steckley who now has an experimental farm at Ridgetown.

Since then he has won a great number of judging competitions, including the inter-county judging competition in 1926. He won the trip to Chicago in the same year. He has always been interested in livestock and has acted as a judge at the Toronto Exhibition, the Royal Winter Fair, at Collingwood Fair for ten years in succession and at nearly every fair in York and Simcoe counties. He judged horses at the Peterboro fair for five years for the judging competitions for junior boys. He has been president of the Aurora Horse Show for nine years, before which he was vice president for three.

Elton sowed wood for nine years before buying his present farm on Yonge St. in 1928. He married Margaret Mainland in 1931 and has four children, including one set of twins. He has been a member of the township council for seven years, York county representative to the Aurora high school board for six years and secretary-treasurer of the Armitage public school board for 25 years.

KINDERGARTENS KEEP KIDS HAPPY, HEALTHY

By GOLDEN GLOW

It is queer to trace your thoughts back to their source, and really interesting too! Our high school literature teacher used to call it the "association of ideas." This morning, seeing the little ones gather in the corner to wait for the taxi to take them to kindergarten school started me thinking of the origin of kindergartens.

The word kindergarten simply means, translating freely from the Germans, "garden of children," and was the word used by the founder when he instituted his first kindergarten school. His name, by the way (yes, it was really a man!), was Friedrich Froebel, and he founded his first kindergarten school in the year 1840, after five or more years of intense study and observation of children's habits and proclivities at an orphanage of which he was director. It was for psychological training of little children, four to six years, by means of play and occupation.

Through the media of games, songs (when they put in the motions), marching to music, and handwork, even if it is only threading beads, they are kept busy and interested, and I need hardly add that a busy, interested child is a happy child. Usually the routine and regularity of their kindergarten school days tends to promote good health as well. They are taught to live with others, taught to share, taught to do things in unison, taught through play to think. They are taught to be always courteous and the foundation of future good manners is laid in their baby days, which they will never forget.

Oh yes, I am a firm believer in the system of the kindergarten, and where the teacher is cheerful, and patient, and sympathetic, the results are marvellous, and many a person who has been privileged to attend such a school will look back to it with pleasure.

You know, I rather like the name, garden of children—kindergarten. If you have watched a school in operation you will know a good deal of their time is spent in games out in the garden, which suggested the name, a garden of children.

TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, The Era and Express: It would be greatly appreciated if you would print this letter to clear up a few wrong impressions which were created by your report on the recent meeting of Local No. 20, N.U.F.W., C.C.L., on Tuesday, June 10.

Your report states the Newmarket Local of National Union of Furniture Workers at an earlier meeting, voted to withdraw from its national union in favor of the C.I.O. affiliation. Newmarket's Local No. 20 does not have to vote to withdraw from the National Union of Furniture Workers. When the present agreements, written under N.U.F.W., expire, then the National Union as such, will cease to exist. At the present time, the national executive and executive board and the national organizers are under the jurisdiction and on the payroll of the International Woodworkers of America. Until such time as all the national locals have amalgamated with the I.W.A. or present N.U.F.W. agreements expire, the national executive board will act in a dual role. Prior to Tuesday, all the national al locals except Newmarket and Peterboro had voted for amalgamation and applied for a charter with the I.W.A.

Mr. H. Erstad, as well as being an organizer for the I.W.A., is also the secretary-treasurer of the National Union of Furniture Workers and a member of its executive board, while it is still in existence.

You quote Mr. Paynter as being opposed to outside organizers setting contracts for Newmarket workers. That is not correct. Mr. Paynter has always accepted and assisted "outside organizers" so long as they would contribute to the well being of Newmarket workers in general and Local No. 20 in particular. What Mr. Paynter objected to was amalgamation at the present time.

He said it would cost the local the loss of some of its members. He stressed the fact that he was not opposed to the amalgamation later and was expressing the opinions of members not present when he said the local was not ready for international affiliation.

The expense relating to the change will be borne by the I.W.A. Present members of Local No. 20 will not have to pay an additional initiation fee, but will pay their regular dues as usual. The charter and charter supplies will be supplied free by the International Woodworkers of America.

James T. Raymond, Vice-president, Local No. 20, N.U.F.W.

Farmers - - Attention

Wanted: A number of progressive farmers in western districts who would like to set out a commercial block of red raspberries, either for your local trade or for shipping to recommended city dealers. Recent Ontario-Quebec production figures, prices at 40-60 cents per quart and dealer reports would indicate short supplies everywhere.

To encourage a limited planting of new high yielding patches, a well known nursery is sending a special representative of many years' experience in commercial production to personally interview and educate interested farmers in raspberry culture. This should result in higher unit yields, longer patch life, less hand labor and when translated into dollars at normal prices a relatively high ratio of profit is assured.

Because of the limited supply of good planting material, bookings can only be made for FALL PLANTING 1947, limited to one acre.

If genuinely interested in berry growing as a sideline to farming, write Box 457, Campbellford, Ont., on or before June 25, giving location of your farm. Our specialist will call later and completely analyze the business, soil requirements and preparation, up-to-date cultural practices, home markets and surplus shipping cost of planting, estimated yields and profits per acre. Late replies cannot be covered.

FREE SERVICE FOR FARMERS

For the purpose of assisting the farmers of Canada to meet the economic problems with which they are constantly confronted and to carry on the industry of Canadian agriculture to the advantage of the nation as a whole, the Dominion Government has several millions of dollars invested in free services and facilities.

No other industry has at its disposal such a wide and varied range of services and facilities provided by the Government. They include the Dominion-wide system of Experimental Farms and Stations, the divisions of Dairy Research, Botany and Plant Pathology, Chemistry, Entomology and Plant Protection of the Science Service, the divisions of Health of Animals, Plant Production and Livestock with their field services of the Production Service, the Marketing Service, in which is centralized the administration of all grading services of livestock and livestock products, dairy products, poultry, eggs, fruit, vegetables, canned goods, maple products and honey and the Division of Agricultural Economics, which serves as a fact-finding body concerning production and marketing.

Results of the research work and experiments of all these services of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are made known to farmers and the people of Canada generally through free publications, the press and radio, exhibits and other ways directed by the Publicity and Extension Division.

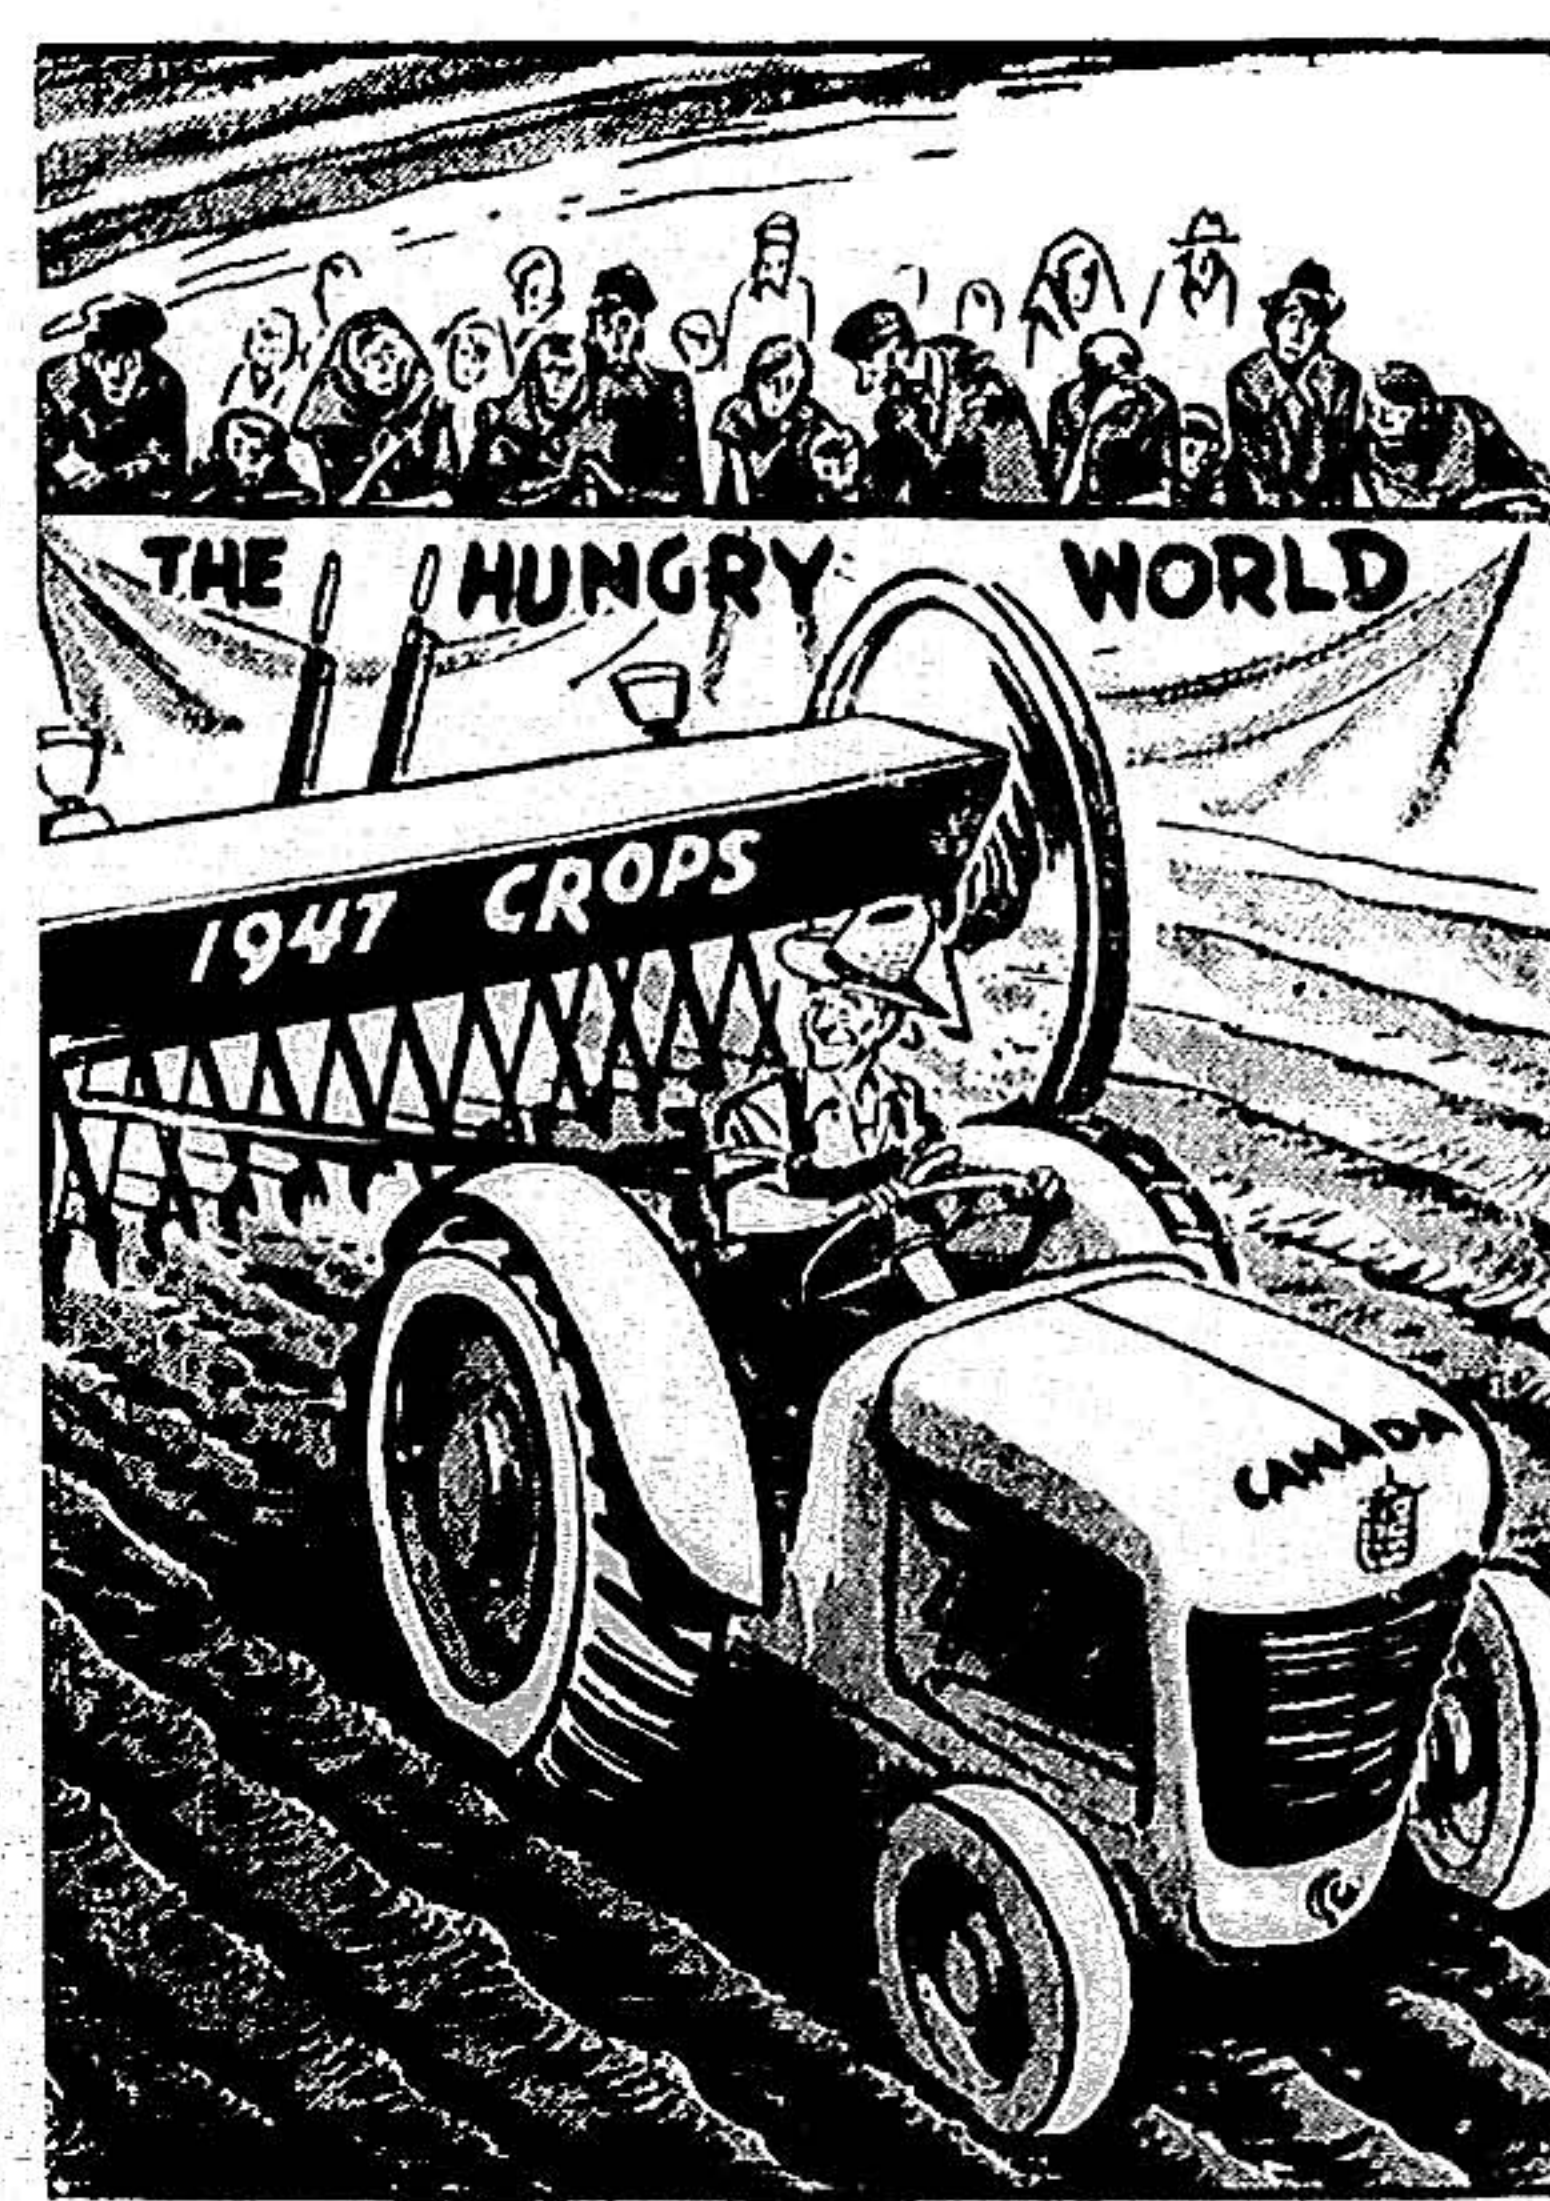

Those engaged in the industry of Agriculture, whether directly or indirectly, are invited to make full use of the services and facilities as outlined. They are free.

Weeklies Important Link, Hannan Says In Statement

"The community weeklies provide an important link between the urban and rural residents," said H. H. Hannan, president and managing director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in a statement issued for the Salute to Agriculture editions of the Canadian weekly newspapers.

"It frequently falls the lot of the community weekly to interpret the problems of the farmers to urban residents and vice versa. In this connection, the weekly papers have been generous in their use of news of farmers' organizations and in their editorial interpretations of their objectives," Mr. Hannan continued.

The annual Salute to Agriculture is sponsored by the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association of which The Era and Express is a member. The first "salute" was given last year and from all indications, will be carried on annually in an effort to give due recognition to the problems, the hopes and the accomplishments of that important part of Canadian life, the farmer.

Mr. Hannan's statement follows:

"In the light of the success which attended the Salute to Agriculture conducted by the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association last year, it is pleasing to learn that the association has decided to repeat the project again this summer. The proposal has been advanced that this become an annual program for the weeklies of Canada during the third week of June. This is worthy of consideration. Such a project should contribute much towards the ultimate objective of gaining official recognition for a 'National Day for Agriculture'.

"The Canadian Federation of Agriculture heartily endorses the C.W.N.A. project again this year and wishes it success. The community weeklies provide an important link between the urban and the rural residents of the Dominion. Many of the communities served by the membership of the C.W.N.A. are dependent almost entirely upon the prosperity of the rural areas they serve. Thus it frequently falls to the lot of the community weekly to interpret the problems of the farmers to urban residents and vice versa. In this connection the weekly newspapers have been generous in their use of the news of farmers' organizations and in their editorial interpretation of their objectives.

"The farmers of Canada enjoy the satisfaction of having achieved a record in organization not equalled in many lands. Through organization and united effort they have won for themselves a front seat in the councils of the nation. They have established a case for equality for agriculture as the only adequate basis for a balanced economy.

"Having attained this status, it remains now for the farmers of Canada to measure up to their opportunities and their responsibilities. It is doubtful if the future has ever been as bright for the organized farmers of Canada and, the international level, for the farmers of the world, as is at the present time. There is a saying that the future belongs to those who are prepared for it. It seems to apply in this case. Whether or not the organized farmers of Canada are prepared and equipped to rise to the stature required of them to take full advantage of this opportunity, which we feel is the opportunity for their time and generation, remains to be seen. It will require constructive, informed thinking, the ability and readiness to compromise and the foresight and courage to pioneer and persist."

"The farmers of Canada enjoy the satisfaction of having achieved a record in organization not equalled in many lands. Through organization and united effort they have won for themselves a front seat in the councils of the nation. They have established a case for equality for agriculture as the only adequate basis for a balanced economy.

Record Production - Kennedy

HON. THOS. L. KENNEDY, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario

For a long period of years, the weekly press of Ontario has rendered a great public service in the field it serves by the supply of news to the cause of agriculture. Our weekly papers have given freely of space, and have exercised helpful influence on behalf of agriculture, in their opinion, which, in their opinion, would contribute to the well-being and happiness of our rural communities. This Salute to Agriculture edition which is being issued today is one more of the desire of weekly paper publishers to recognize the important part which the farmer plays in our national provincial economy, and to contribute to the farmers of the province by the publication of a job of production they have done during the critical year of 1946, which we have passed and are still passing. It is a proud to join with this paper in a Salute to Agriculture in Ontario, knowing as I do, how splendidly they have met the challenge of the war and the postwar period in which we have not yet completely. The people of this province have every reason to feel proud of what our farmers have accomplished in the past year. They have left no stone unturned in their ability to produce. The record of 1946 and 1947, in particular, shows the great productive power of Ontario farmers. In the value of Ontario's farm production, $687,000,000, was the highest recorded in any year up to that time. Yet that figure was left far behind in 1946, when the value of farm production in Ontario reached the all-time high record of $733,000,000. In that enviable record, all of our farmers had a share, and are worthy of the highest praise that can be bestowed upon them.

More Field Crops

These figures alone do not show fully the predominance of Ontario in the realm of farm production. So far as field crops are concerned, Ontario produced more than any other province in 11 of the major field crops grown in Canada. Saskatchewan came first in two, wheat and oats; Alberta first in

She will speak on the organization and activities of the junior farmer clubs in Ontario. Miss Orr is one of the Vellore "Harmonettes" who have become famous throughout the province for their singing, and was also a member of the team that won the dominion clothing contest.

Active Junior Farmers Seek Rural Betterment

An active part of agricultural life in the district are the junior farmers with clubs throughout the country. Listed below are some of the junior groups, their personnel and their activities.

York County Junior Farmers Association

Organized to unite rural young peoples' associations in the county, the York County Junior Farmers Association is headed by Bruce Snider with Thelma Weir as vice-president and Stuart Watson, secretary-treasurer. In common with the organizations associated with it, the county association has as its aim, "self help and community betterment."

Under its sponsorship, an annual judging and home plowing competition is held for boys and a junior home makers achievement day for the girls. An annual picnic and dance is held at Musselman's Lake during June and a skating party during the winter.

Vandorf Junior Farmers

Ray Stephenson is the president of the Vandorf club with a membership of 25, but with a desire, common to all clubs, to increase its membership. Formed in 1939, the purpose of the club is to give leadership in planning educational and social programs for rural youth and to encourage a keener interest in farm work. Members of the club are active in the swine club, judging competitions, plowing contests, and in taking short courses.

The social side is not neglected with a monthly dance being held through the winter as well as a hockey team and a ball club in the summer.

Junior Homemakers Club

The Homemakers have a membership of 13 and share with the boys in their activities as well as planning projects on their own such as the Garden Brigade. Mrs. Jack Moynihan is president with Mrs. Roy Smith, vice-president and Aileen Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Vellore Junior Women's Institute

The Vellore girls last year adopted a Polish child as their contribution to the "Save the Children Fund," and became so interested that they have adopted him for another year. The enthusiasm and the activity are typical of the Vellore group which is best known for the "Harmonettes," a singing group of Mary Keffer, Mrs. Ruth Grubbe, Mary, Jean and Ruth McGillivray, and Orphie Orr, led by Margaret Watson.

Mary McGillivray is president of the club which musters a membership of 29, and like the other rural young people's groups, finds its purpose in its mottoes, "Self-help and Community Betterment" and "For Home and Country." Mary Keffer, Maple, is vice-president with Evelyn Hare, Maple, secretary.

Last year, a team of Evelyn Hare and Orphie Orr, representing York county, won provincial and dominion clothing competitions.

Sharon Junior Farmers

With a combined membership of 42, the Sharon club exerts a wide influence among the youth of the district. Aiming to keep rural young people on the farms and promote modern methods, the club hears speakers from other groups and tries to encourage co-operation.

As part of its program, the Sharon club is the sponsor of a calf club of 11 members.

Vellore Junior Farmers

With an imposing list of projects to its credit, the Vellore club has as honorary president Bruce Snider. President is Archie Fletcher; vice pres., Allan Orr; sec., Bruce Hoiles; treas., Howard Plunkett. The combined membership of boys and girls (Vellore Junior Institute) is 92.

As well as calf and grain clubs the Vellore group has undertaken "weed projects" and shares with the other groups a determination to improve their standards of living with new ideas for farming and educational projects. Ice cream socials, fall and spring dances and parties round out a busy club program.

Tribute Only Fitting - Smith

By J. E. SMITH, M.P., YORK NORTH

This week is set aside by the press as an occasion to salute agriculture and I am happy to have this opportunity to pay tribute to Canada's basic industry and those people throughout Canada engaged in it.

At this season when the farmers of North York are experiencing many discouragements due to the unfavorable spring weather, it is particularly fitting that we should extend to them our good wishes and an expression of our appreciation of the important role they play in our national life.

Agriculture is an important industry of Canada, and while the great wheat growing areas of the west contribute much to our agricultural greatness we should keep in mind that our Ontario farmers last year led the rest of Canada in the production of hogs, cattle, sheep, lambs, cheese, eggs, poultry, tobacco, mixed grains, peas, beans, buckwheat, shell corn, clover, alfalfa and many other crops and products. Ontario agricultural production last year had an estimated value of $733 million, an all-time high for this province. This record production found a ready market and there still is a great demand in a hungry world for the products of our farms.

Two Crops Favored

Though the spring season this year has not been favorable for the early seeding of feed grains in Eastern Canada, the two important crops of pasture and hay were never better. Fruit crops, too, give promise of abundant yields both in small and tree fruits. In western Canada, more feed grains have been sown this year than in 1946 and with the continuance of the freight assistance policy under which the dominion government pays the cost of freight on coarse grains, millfeeds and screenings shipped from western Canada, Fort William and Port Arthur, to farmers in the eastern provinces and British Columbia for feeding livestock, supplies of feed are generally assured.

Meanwhile food supplies throughout the world are far from plentiful. Agreements with the British Ministry of Food continue in effect for the next one or two years. These agreements assure a market for all surpluses of the principal

The Shawinigan Water and Power Company

Electricity developed from water power is important to factory, farm and home; and the hydro-electric industry is growing with Canada.

The Shawinigan Water and Power Company, one of the largest producers and distributors of hydro-electric energy in the world, serves a large area in the Province of Quebec (16,000 square miles), extending North and South of the St. Lawrence River, from Quebec City in the East to Lake of Two Mountains, 40 miles West of Montreal.

One quarter of the Company's gross revenue is derived from retail sales in 515 communities — the balance from sales of large blocks of power to industrial consumers and to other distributors of electricity.

The Company is now carrying out a programme of capital expansion, which will increase both its productive capacity and earning power.

Use Government Services Gardiner Urges Farmers

The federal minister of agriculture, James G. Gardiner, said in a statement issued for the agricultural edition of Newmarket Era and Express that while the feed grain situation was serious, steps had been taken by the government to encourage greater production of feed grains.

JAMES G. GARDINER
Minister of Agriculture

"The supply position with respect to feed grains is at present dangerously low," he said. "There is practically no reserve." At the same time, "steps have been taken by the dominion government to encourage the growing of more feed grains by an adjustment of prices for barley and oats".

Mr. Gardiner's full statement follows:
"During the war agreements with Britain for supplying essential food products established a basis of prices reasonable to Canadian farmers. Similar agreements or contracts are in effect for the next one to two years, which means that farmers have a ready export market and are protected against any wide fluctuation in prices. These agreements with the British ministry of food call for any supplies over the amounts specified that can be made available of wheat, bacon, beef, cheese, evaporated milk, eggs, dressed poultry and several other products.

"There is also a high domestic demand for every kind of farm produce and there is evidence that several other countries want certain food products from Canada. It is apparent, therefore, that whatever problems confront the farmers of Canada, markets just now is not one of them. If a sound balance of agriculture in Canada is to be maintained, the importance of a high ratio of meat and dairy production is essential.

"There has been an unavoidable sharp decline in meat production since the record year of 1944 and a slight falling off in dairy production. One of the principal causes of these declines has been the limitations of the feed supply, principally coarse grains. More feed grains will have to be produced if the present numbers of livestock are to be maintained and still more if the production of meats and milk is to be increased, and there are ready markets for more of such products in Britain and other countries. Steps have been taken by the dominion government to encourage the growing of more feed grains by an adjustment of prices for barley and oats.

"The supply position with respect to feed grains is at present dangerously low. There is practically no reserve. If sufficient feed grains could be grown in both western and eastern Canada to maintain the livestock on farms and provide a year's reserve supply to take care of demands in the event of a short crop year, it would be of tremendous economic advantage nationally and help to maintain a balanced agriculture, which may become unbalanced if the importance of livestock production is lost sight of.

RAIN TAKES HEAVY TOLL OF TOP SOIL

Anyone who has taken the trouble to watch a heavy rain brush or roll the surface soil down a slope may have been reminded of a giant planing mill shaving the rough surface off a plank. Slowly and surely the surface is removed.

In soil erosion measurements by the field husbandry division at the central experimental farm in Ottawa, says Dr. P. O. Ripley, dominion field husbandman, it was somewhat startling to learn in 1945 that in the four months, June to October, 15 inches of rainfall shaved 31.0 tons of soil per acre from the surface of a field of corn planted and cultivated up and down a ten percent slope. On June 17, 1946, 45 tons of soil per acre were washed off

WEED KILLERS SAID NOT FULL ANSWER

Considerable interest is evident these days in chemical weed killers of one kind or another; so much so, indeed, that some people believe that the difficulties of weed control will be solved in a short time, said W. H. Wright, Chief, Seed Laboratory Services, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in a recent address on "Seed Cleaning Plant Service." Though many difficulties will be overcome by the use of weed killers, he said there will still be plenty of weeds to invade crops and weed seeds enough to keep cleaning plants active. Most of the new weed killers have to be used with caution, as many of them are injurious to some crop plants, and if they are not properly used they may do damage to the even less susceptible crops.

Some years ago, seed drill surveys were conducted in several counties of Ontario and other parts of Canada. Samples of seeds were taken from the drills actually in operation, or from lots of seed which farmers had prepared for seeding, or which remained over from seeding. Examination of these samples showed that 40 percent of the seed sown would have been classed as "rejected" under the Regulations of the Seed Act and a large number would have passed muster only by being graded as No. 2 or No. 3 seed. Many farmers consider that No. 3 seed is not really fit for seed. Doubtless the seed drill surveys helped to bring about the establishment of many seed cleaning plants. It would be interesting, said Mr. Wright, to carry out other such surveys to find out how much conditions have improved.

The manager of a seed cleaning plant can perform a service to farmers in giving advice about the wisdom of using certain lots for seeding purposes. Seed which could not be sold in the open market too often finds its way into the ground. When a plant operator knows that any lot of seed contains too many weed seeds after having been cleaned, he should use all his powers of persuasion to prevent it being used for seeding. By so doing, he would render real service to the individual farmer and to the community in general. Another service the operator can give is to discourage farmers from taking home certain kinds of seed. Screenings from the small seeds are practically of no feeding value and are better destroyed.

URGE FARMERS KEEP EGGS CLEANED UP

Cleaning eggs is not a substitute for clean eggs. No type of cleaning can do a satisfactory job on stained or very dirty eggs. Any type of cleaning removes to some extent the protective coating of the shell and hastens deterioration of quality. The surface of an egg is slightly moist when it is laid. Clean nest material is the only way to prevent staining.

In the laying house no dirty litter should be allowed, and frequent collection of eggs avoids dirt caused by birds walking over or soiling other eggs already in the nest. The point is to keep eggs clean and avoid the necessity and labor in cleaning them. Canada has attained a notable reputation on the British market for clean eggs.

FIND 36 DEGREES BEST FOR ONIONS

Storage experiments at the Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Man., indicate that continuously cool (36 degrees F.) and dry conditions are the best for onion bulbs. Light freezing did not injure the bulbs but increased their pungency. Bulbs kept air-dry but allowed to become alternately frozen and thawed several times broke down with rot quickly when brought into room temperature of 70 degrees.

TO ATTEND MEET OF RURAL WOMEN

Miss Anna P. Lewis, director of the Women's Institute Branch and Home Economics Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is going overseas in August to attend the first post-war convention of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, to be held in Amsterdam, Holland, in September. Before going to Holland Miss Lewis plans to spend some time in England and Scotland visiting Women's Institutes there and seeing some of the special educational work that is being done in the United Kingdom.

In addition to Miss Lewis, Miss Edith Collins, senior field assistant in clothing of the Women's Institute Branch and Home Economics Service, will also go overseas to attend the convention in Amsterdam. Since this is the first convention of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, an outgrowth of the Women's Institutes of Ontario, special interest is attached to it, since it will bring together women from about 40 countries of the world, some of which were under enemy occupation during the war, and which are still suffering from the aftermath of the conflict.

There is a possibility that other representatives of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario will also attend the convention, but no definite decision in that respect has yet been reached.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT Fighter Is Fined $5 "Friend" Goes Free

"If you want to fight, go out in some farmer's field where you won't be bothering other people," Magistrate J. E. Pritchard, K.C., told Allen Shupe in magistrate's court on Friday. Shupe was charged with disturbing the peace by shouting, swearing and fighting and incommencing peaceful passengers in Sutton. He pleaded not guilty.

Chief Constable William Burke, Sutton, said he had gone to the scene of an altercation between Shupe and William Teskey on High St., Sutton, on June 3 and had seen the two fighting. "I ordered them to stop and Teskey did," Chief Burke said. "He reached for his coat and I asked Shupe where his coat was. Shupe said he did not have one and suddenly he lunged forward and struck Teskey."

A citizen put his hand on Shupe's shoulder and told him to stop and Shupe turned and struck him. Then he called Teskey a vile name. There were about 17 people gathered," he said. Clayton Brady, Sutton, who said he was a friend of both of the men involved, said the argument had started in the restaurant and the two men had gone outside to settle their differences. He said he had tried to persuade the two not to fight but Shupe had told him to keep out of it and had struck him with his fist. He said the other two started to fight and were down in the road when they decided to stop and got up again, whereupon another argument ensued. "I put my hand on Shupe's shoulder and told him Burke was coming and he struck me again," he said he had been dazed by the blows and could not remember whether any foul language had been used. Shupe said there was no animosity between Teskey and himself but that an argument had started in the restaurant and they had gone outside to fight. He said that no one had been imposed by the fight. "The offence with which you were charged was completed when you started swearing," Magistrate Pritchard said. He imposed a fine of $5 and costs. A similar charge against Teskey was dismissed when Chief Burke said he had not heard Teskey use any foul language and had not seen him strike any blows. "It has always been a mystery to me why the department did not see fit to make fighting an offence under this section," Magistrate Pritchard said. "Apparently it is quite permissible to fight on a public street provided that there is no bad language and no one is impeded."

Harry Tovell, Newmarket, was fined $2 and costs when he was convicted of making a left hand turn against a red light. Constable T. H. Craig said he observed Tovell's car proceeding south on Yonge St. "He went through a red light and turned left onto Eagle St.," Constable Craig said. "I stopped him and he said he thought that was permissible."

James N. Sheridan, Newmarket, was convicted of driving with defective lights near Holland Landing and was fined $5 and costs. "There were no lights visible on the rear at all," Constable Craig said.

"IN CONSEQUENCE of a Duel"

EARLY POLICIES of the Canada Life a hundred years ago contained clauses such as this: "The Policy will become void... if the Person having assured his or her Life, shall die... in consequence of a duel."

During the past century, Canada Life policies have been progressively improved to anticipate the changing needs of Canadians.

From the founders onward the chief purpose of the Company has been—"to extend to our fellow-citizens the comforting protection of life insurance." Reaffirming this principle at the 100th Annual Meeting the president added: "All our assets are but the savings of the people, left with us for a while, to be repaid later on at a time when they will be needed more."

IN MEMORIAM
Archibald—In loving memory of a dear husband, Ambrose A. Archibald, who passed away June 24, 1946.
I have lost my soul's companion. A life linked with my own. And day by day I miss him more As I walk through life alone. "Thy will be done" seems hard to say When once we loved has passed away. Some day, perhaps, we'll understand When we meet again in that better land. More and more each day we miss him: Friends may think the wound is healed; But they little know the sorrow Lies within our hearts concealed. Lovingly remembered by his wife, Janey Viola Archibald.
Archibald—In loving memory of a dear father, Ambrose A. Archibald, who passed away June 24, 1946.
It's lonely home without you, dad, And sad the weary way, For life is not the same to us Since you were called away. If we had all the world to give, We'd give it, yes, and more, To hear your voice and see your smile. And greet you at the door. So you who have a father, Cherish him with care, For you'll never know the heartache Till you see his vacant chair. Lovingly remembered by his daughter Hilda.
Chantler—In loving memory of our dear little grandson and nephew, Charles (Buddy) Chantler, who passed away suddenly, June 22, 1937.
Gathered by Jesus in all his child-like purity, A beautiful snowdrop to bloom in the garden of heaven; Safe in the arms of Jesus. Always lovingly remembered by his Grandma Jones and aunts and uncles.
Cutline—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Ellen S. Cutline, who passed away June 25, 1946.
Somewhere back of the sunset Where loveliness never dies, She dwells in a land of glory With the blue and gold of the skies. And we who have known and loved her, Whose passing has brought us tears, Will cherish her memory always Down through the passing years. Sadly missed by husband and family.
Pegg—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Nellie Mae Pegg, who passed away on June 17, 1946.
No one knows how much we miss you, No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered. Since we lost you Life has never been the same. In our hearts your memory lingers, Sweetly tender, fond and true, There is not a day, dear mother, That we do not think of you. Sadly missed by husband and family.
Prosser—In loving memory of a dear grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Prosser, who died May 28, 1944, and July 12, 1945.
For them, life more abundant, For us, a guiding star. Sadly missed by Cecil and Sadye and grandchildren Alice, Roydon and Margaret Ida.

Interesting Reading For Everyone
Young Hopefuls
By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN
PEACE AFTER DARK
Chuckie and Rickie are brothers, seven and four years respectively. According to their father, they were the world's worst children when company came in the evening. Invariably, Chuckie had to make four or five trips to the bathroom. Rickie never missed his turn after Chuckie. First, Chuckie called for water. By the time, the obliging parent had squelched his cries by quenching his thirst, Rickie would start to whoop for water.
The frequent interruptions were especially distracting during evenings devoted to bridge. After one of these impossible sessions, the boys' parents had a quarrel. Father vowed he never again would attempt bridge under similar circumstances. Mother said he could spend all his evenings at stag parties, for all she cared.
There was no question about it. When there was company, the boys took the opportunity to get special attention. Besides, they tried to satisfy their curiosity concerning what was going on. After that especially distracting evening of bridge, mother had a serious talk with Chuckie and Rickie. She asked if they wanted daddy and her to go to other people's houses and never have anyone come to their house. The boys didn't think that would be much fun — especially, since they liked the extra cookies and candies when there was company.
Mother explained, too, that people could be as busy talking and playing cards as if they were working. Both boys knew better than to disturb their father when he was working — figuring at his desk. They had learned that their mother wasn't very congenial while she was working — washing, ironing or canning.
Father consented to mother's suggestion of a party-on-trial. If the boys caused any disturbance at this party, there were to be no more parties at home. Mother took considerable time to tell the boys about each one of the guests and just what was planned for the evening in the line of entertainment and refreshments. She tried to leave nothing to their imaginations. She promised to go to their room at 10 o'clock. If they were still awake, she would answer all the questions they had thought of while they were lying in bed — providing there wasn't a sound out of them before 10 o'clock.
Long before 10 o'clock, both boys were sound asleep. Thinking of questions was as effective for them as counting sheep is for some people. The boys had been told about the people and the party so they weren't excited with curiosity. Or perhaps, the thought of no more party cookies or candies sold them on the idea of being good so there would be more parties at home with more and more cookies and candies.
Anyway, it was as if they had been miraculously charmed into silence and slumber. The boys are now the world's best children when company comes in the evening. Peace reigns at home again.

LIBRARY CORNER

By CAROLINE E. ION
This week we shall leave the juvenile section of the Newmarket public library for a short time in order to discuss two new additions to the adult non-fiction section. They are: "How to Train Hunting Dogs," by William F. Brown, and "The Art of Handgun Shooting," by Captain Charles Askins, Jr. "How to Train Hunting Dogs," the author of which is considered by many to be the leading authority on field trials, presents all the fundamentals of training dogs. "A graceful bird dog ranges swiftly through an expansive stubble field testing each vagrant breeze of the frosty morning for the warm scent of game. Suddenly his rhythmic motion suspends. The dog freezes into a majestic pose, every muscle tense, every fibre aflame, head high and tail aloft. There is character, confidence, class in his inspiring attitude. A bevy of bonny bob-white quail is located accurately... and the hunter can prepare for some exciting sport." Such is the striking sporting scene which Mr. Brown portrays in his book as well as describing in detail the proper training techniques, methods of selection and handling of dogs—all of which is essential to making these thrilling moments possible.
An authoritative history of each breed, information as to the particular uses of hunting breeds and their standards as well as general information for the training of every dog is set forth in a clear and precise manner in this new arrival to the Newmarket public library.
Included also is a fine collection of photographs showing typical specimens of each breed together with many shots of the dogs in action. Any sportsman and dog owner will thoroughly enjoy this book and appreciate the years of experience that made it possible.
The second book, "The Art of Handgun Shooting," is a practical manual written for both the novice and expert with the same amount of space being given to each. The training methods for the police given in this book as well as all the shooting methods advocated are based on practical and workable systems used by the writer.
Recruit gunners will learn from this manual how to stand correctly, how to grip the gun and align the sights and thus develop pistol skill quickly. Problems of the skilled handgunner are also considered in detail. All members of gun clubs should find this book immensely helpful.

THIS Summer DECISIONS

10 more now?

the long grind?

some other line?

It isn't easy for an ambitious young man to decide whether he's taking the right road to success. There just aren't any hard and fast rules to guide him. But one thing upon which most successful men agree is the value of making a long-term personal plan of action.

When you map out your personal plan of action you will, of course, want to include financial independence. That is where your North American Life representative can help. He gets a special kick out of starting a young man on a small program—and watching both the man and the program grow up together.

For only a few dollars a month now, you can watch your financial independence begin to grow. And you'll find that current decisions about jobs and everything are more easily and wisely made when you've got your long-term plan started.

Call your North American Life man in for a chat. He represents a mutual company with a 66-year record for helping in the making of successful business men.

Better OATS

PLANT breeders at experimental farms have already succeeded in reducing considerably the damage done to oats by rust and lodging; and are constantly working to develop high quality early and late maturing varieties which will resist severe and minor diseases. Also being sought are varieties more suitable for combining. These must have strong, short straw, and must resist shattering when overripe.

Your nearest experimental farm not only can tell you about these developments, but also has the answers to many other farm problems: a service that is yours for the asking.

This Bank offers the service of money. Perhaps you've been wanting a Farm Improvement Loan? Our branch managers are constantly making such loans to responsible farmers.

farm products at reasonable prices. At the same time there is a high domestic demand for every kind of farm produce. It is evident, therefore, that there is no difficulty in connection with the disposal of all that the farmers of Canada can produce, providing it is of the quality desired.

Other Problems

Though the marketing of their products is obviously not presently a problem to Canadian farmers, they have nevertheless other problems confronting them. During the war years, when the dominion government was considering the problems of national rehabilitation and reconstruction, agriculture was by no means overlooked. Special committees were appointed to make recommendations in the interests of agriculture. Among their recommendations were the urging of practical action with respect to farm housing, prices of farm products, farm credit, land utilization and improvement, industrialization of farm products, postwar international markets and other measures. Under legislation passed by the dominion parliament, some of these recommendations have been put in effect and are now operating. In co-operation with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a crown company, a co-ordinating committee has begun a survey of the rural housing problem and has taken action to carry out some projects.

The Agricultural Prices Support Act is now operating. The National Research Council has established a pilot laboratory in connection with the use of farm products for industrial use. Legislation was enacted by the dominion parliament in 1944, providing for export credits to develop markets for agricultural products and the Farm Improvement Loans Act, which provides loans for farmers, under government auspices, is operating successfully.

Government Facilities

Canadian agriculture, like every other industry, will always have problems. But if, in the years ahead, agriculture in Canada can be kept on a sound balance maintaining a high ratio of meat and dairy production, there will be no cause for grave concern from the economic point of view. All the services and facilities of the dominion department of agriculture are readily available to help in this direction, and also to assist in promoting better living conditions on the farms throughout Canada.

I hope that this nation-wide press tribute may tend to draw attention to the importance of agriculture in our national economy and our national life.

Agriculturists have taken a wise and commendable step in helping their industry by the organization of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. This splendid organization is doing good work and is useful not only to our farmers but also to various branches of government, legislating for agriculture. As I write, officials of the organization are conferring here at Ottawa on important matters pertaining to the present crop year. The fine help and co-operation being extended by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture is much appreciated by the government of Canada. The departments of agriculture of Canada and of the various provinces are active in the promotion of agriculture, and it is a healthy sign that farmers now have a national organization to co-operate with these governments in helping themselves.

Agriculture, like every other industry, faces many problems in this world of change and uncertainty, but it is on a sure foundation in Canada and there is every reason for confidence in the future. It would appear that the industry can look forward to days of continuing prosperity in the years which lie ahead.

two, barley and sugar beets; and Quebec in one, potatoes. In all the others, Ontario took first place. In manufactured farm products, such as beef, bacon, lamb and mutton, eggs, poultry, cheese and other milk products, Ontario came first in 12, and Quebec was first in one, namely, butter. These were the products most urgently required to feed the hungry people of Britain and Europe, and Ontario can feel proud of what its farmers have done to help meet the food needs of the world.

Ontario agriculture has a firm foundation in the dairy industry. The dairy cattle breeders of the province are known far and wide, beyond the confines of the dominion, for the excellence of their high-producing herds of dairy cattle. So in our Ontario farm economy, cattle and dairy products form a very important factor. Last year, the cash income received by Ontario farmers for their cattle and dairy products alone amounted to $192,000,000, just over 40 percent of the entire farm cash income. This shows the importance of the dairy industry to the whole agricultural picture.

Home of Dairy Stock

There is another aspect of this industry which has become of great importance to our dairy cattle breeders. Ontario has come to be regarded the world over, as the home of the finest dairy breeding stock that is available. The excellence of our dairy animals has been recognized by the buyers of foundation stock in many countries, as is shown by the fact that last year we exported foundation breeding stock to 19 different countries including the United States, Mexico and Colombia; Britain, Chile and Cuba; Bermuda, Newfoundland and China. The Argentine, Puerto Rico, Jamaica and Palestine; New Zealand, Costa Rica and Venezuela. In the Holstein breed alone, 22,486 purebred animals were purchased by buyers from 17 different countries and 29 states of the United States. In making these purchases, they left over $8,000,000 in our province.

Maintain Standards

These foreign buyers want the best, so if Ontario is to maintain these valuable markets, more good cattle will have to be produced, so that the quality of those remaining in the province can be kept up to the highest possible standard.

As we look ahead to 1947, and the future years, there is before us a world of uncertainties, and yet of opportunities if our farmers are prepared to take advantage of them. The outlook for the year 1947 has been somewhat marred by the unfavorable spring weather conditions. This year, as never before, it is essential that Ontario farmers produce every possible bushel of feed grains. Sustained cold and wet weather has interfered with seeding, but it is hoped that with the return of favorable growing weather early this month, Ontario may yet produce satisfactory crops of feed grains. Farmers can contribute towards this end by seeding their land to such crops as can be planted in the month of June, and producing feed of some kind, whether it be grain, pasture or roughage, on every acre that is available.

Looking further ahead, the whole future of Ontario agriculture depends on the extent to which we can hold and expand export markets for our surplus farm products. That there will be surpluses we know, because the productive capacity of our farms is far beyond the consumptive capacity of our population. We must at all costs continue to export our farm surpluses in ever-growing measure, or our agriculture is doomed to perish.

In the years to come, it will not be as easy to maintain export markets as it has been during the last seven years. Other food-producing countries will be restoring their agriculture, and will be in competition with the farmers of Ontario for the markets that are available. If we are to learn any lessons from past experience, and from other countries, we must realize that there are three factors which must be given first place in our agriculture. First, the quality of our products must be at least equal to that of any other country in the world; second, we must take steps to lower our costs of production, and third, we must adopt and practise the best and most modern methods of marketing.

Program of Research

To assist our farmers in meeting these three fundamental requirements of agriculture of the future, the Ontario department of agriculture has undertaken a greater program of scientific research than ever before in its history. Science must be a part-of agriculture if our policy is to be improved; our costs of production must be lowered and our products marketed in the most economical and scientific manner. Towards this end, there has been a substantial expansion in the buildings, facilities and staff available at the Ontario Agricultural College and the Ontario Veterinary College for all types of agricultural research. Through the methods and practices developed in this research program, it will be possible to raise our standards of quality to the desired levels, if our farmers as a whole take advantage of the knowledge and information made available to them by the scientists.

Our research program, too, is directed at reducing to a minimum the losses which are sustained through animal diseases, plant diseases, insect pests, and through the prevalence of weeds on our farms. Reduction of these losses, which run into many millions of dollars a year, will be a definite factor in lowering costs of production in all fields of agriculture, and will enable our farmers to meet successfully the competition of countries which, in the past, have been doing a better job than we have done.

That is the challenge that is facing all of our farmers. We know that we can produce in quantity; we must do just as well in quality. The problem which is ahead is that of having every farmer apply to his own operations all the scientific knowledge and information that are available to him as a result of the research program. This means that the department of agriculture plans to do a better job of extension. Through the staff of agricultural representatives in every county and district, and an increasing staff of assistants, and through the specialists available from our agricultural colleges and institutions, it is the aim of the department to place in the hands of all our farmers the scientific information which will enable them to meet the requirements of modern export markets. The information is there for the asking, and the department is equipped to do a better job of extension than has ever been done in the past. We want to give the farmers, right to the farthest back concession, all the help we possibly can towards that end.

The Junior Farmers

In that work of building a better agriculture for the future, we have a great deal of faith in what can be done through our junior farmer organizations. Nothing has given me greater pleasure in the last two or three years than the way in which the junior farmer movement has expanded all over the province. It is now well organized in every one of the counties of old Ontario and in at least three districts of the north. This movement is doing more than providing an opportunity for the young men and women of the farms to meet for recreation and social evenings. It is giving them a thorough knowledge of the latest in the scientific methods of agriculture and is giving them a new pride in agriculture as a life vocation. That means much to the agriculture of the future, because when our young people take pride in what they are doing, then they will put their best into it.

From the junior farmer organization will come the farm leaders of the future. Already we have seen that development, because many of the present leaders came from our first junior farmer groups, and today we see the senior farm organizations reaching out and bringing promising and capable juniors into their boards of directors and their high offices. The junior farmer movement is a great educational movement in agriculture, and in planning for the future, we must place greater stress on education.

To the farmers of Ontario, I want to say that the future is yours. You can make it what you will. The department of agriculture and all its officials stand behind you in all your efforts to raise your standards of farming and maintain for Ontario that proud place in the agricultural life of Canada which it holds today.

It springs from the rich earth furrowed by your plough. It is born of the wheat and the corn and the barley and all the food you produce.

Yes, your crops are the very foundation of our nation's prosperity, because food is an absolute necessity for every man, woman and child... because the growing of food is Canada's most important primary industry. And the greater your harvests—the more solid is prosperity's foundation.

The food you grow is also helping to build a lasting peace by warding off famine in the war-torn countries of Europe, during these years of reconstruction.

Indeed, yours is a tremendous responsibility... to the nation and to the world. But Canada is fully confident that you will continue to produce all the food you possibly can... that your footsteps will never falter in the vanguard of prosperity.

The annual Horticultural Society church service was held in Mount Albert United church on Sunday at 11 a.m. The service was in the charge of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Burgess, and H. J. Kurtz, president of the society, was the speaker. His subject was Ponder the Greatness of the Universe. He told of making a sun dial some years ago and carving on it "ponder the exactness of the universe". He enlarged that thought to "ponder the greatness of the universe". He told of how comets, eclipses, etc., could be reckoned years ahead because of the exactness of the laws of the universe. He spoke of the vastness of the universe in comparison with which our earth is but a speck of matter. He told how trees and plants change the hydrogen, nitrogen and carbon dioxide of the air into stems and branches, leaves and flowers and fruits. In these and many other ways, he illustrated the greatness of the universe and said if we pondered upon it we would realize the greatness of its Creator and be brought into closer touch with Him.

The church was beautifully decorated with iris, lilacs, spiraea, snowballs, lilies and ferns. As it was Father's Day a men's choir, assisted by Mr. T. Allison and Mr. J. P. LaFlair, New Toronto, who sang appropriate solos, provided music.

VOICE OF FARMERS
The York County Federation of Agriculture numbers among its membership at least half of the farmers of York, according to its executive, and hopes to include all farmers in time. As part of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, members have a voice recognized by the government, in the affairs of the province.

Formed ten years ago to improve farm life generally as well as providing a means of uniting farmers in a common cause, the York federation is active in the pursuit of a rural health service and dental clinic. With Peel county, they have secured a national film board circuit with films being shown for educational purposes at regular intervals.

According to the federation officers, the York group is opposed to mass immigration of Poles to Canada. R. G. Keffer, Maple, is president of the York federation. Other officers are: first vice pres., Chas. Hooper, Gormley, R.R. 2; second vice pres., S. B. Watson, Agincourt; sec.-treas., W. J. Buchanan, Downsview, R.R.1.

The co-op was organized Jan. 11, 1945, and now has 155 members. The co-op has provided much-needed storage facilities which have aided in the orderly marketing of the marsh produce. TO THE EDITOR
The editor, Era and Express:
As a citizen and young mother of Newmarket, I feel it my responsibility to write this warning to other mothers of the town. My son is just four months old and like all women of any household, I have shopping to do. I left my child asleep in his carriage in front of one of the stores. His cries called me outside for it was unusual for him to cry in such a manner. I had finished my shopping and so wheeled him home. The mystery of his screaming was solved a few days later when I was told that a child of no more than four was seen to shake the infant violently when she thought she was unobserved and run when she saw me approaching.
My baby is not the only one that has suffered. Only Saturday afternoon, a baby was beat about the head and face with his own toy soldier as he sat in his carriage. This time, too, a young, nicely dressed chap of about four escaped before he could be punished.
I feel it my duty to warn all mothers of young children not to leave their babies unprotected while they shop. What streak of mania lurks in the skulls of such young children as to prompt them to molest babies? I severely blame the parents—if they take children down town, why in the world don't they watch them? One of these days there is going to be a serious accident, if not a death, and maybe it will be the fault of your child. Evidently the offenders are well dressed, respectable looking children. If I had a child that age I certainly would take him aside and warn him about touching a child in a carriage. It is amazing that one child should wish to harm another but every child seems to be endowed with such a nature. You may think your little boy or girl a harmless little angel but don't be deceived. You can't look into their minds and you and you alone are to blame if there is any mishap such as I described before.
I know I'm not going to leave my child outside again. The shopkeepers will probably be very provoked with me for wheeling him about the stores, but at least he'll be safe!
If there is any accident it may be one of your children who is the culprit, so you had better watch that offspring. And all mothers of Newmarket had better be on their guard!

KESWICK

Prior to their marriage and in honor of Miss Shirley Rye and Mr. Wilson H. Stewart, a social evening and shower of gifts took place in the United church school room evening of June 13.
Beautiful and useful gifts in large quantity testified to the high regard in which the bride is held in her home community of Keswick.

A group of friends and neighbors decorated the room with wedding bells and colored streamers. From two large bells directly over the chairs of honor a stream of confetti descended upon the guests of honor as they took their places.

Kenneth Boothby sang two solos, with Mrs. Boothby accompanying. Phyllis Rye and June Prosser contributed piano solos and the Peters twins a vocal duet.

Miss Rye and Mr. Stewart
both expressed their appreciation as did the bride's mother, Mrs. Milford Rye. Lunch was served to close the evening.

For the summer months the United Sunday-school will meet at ten a.m., before morning service. This change takes effect next Sunday, June 22. Also beginning on that date and continuing until Sept. 1, evening services in July and August will be transferred to the beaches
south of Keswick.

Barbara Pritchard and Mary Bothwell, Newmarket, were weekend guests of Ruth Mary Winch.

Mrs. Gordon Lapp attended a reunion of her family last weekend at the home of her cousin,
Mrs. J. H. Crang, near Agin-court.

Newmarket Industrial league officially opened on Monday night at the camp grounds with Canadian Hoffman trouncing International Wood Combines by a 30-10 score. Remaining games for June are: June 19, Davis Leather vs. Office Specialty; June 23, Office Specialty vs. Inter. Wood; June 28, Davis Leather vs. Can. Hoffman.

Diamond Patter

Two of George Haskett's junior ball players who were absent from the diamond last year are back in harness again. Bill Hopper and Tommy "VanRobays" McHale. Hopper won his first game with a nice pitching effort and has played two games at first base to date. McHale can do an equally good job at the initial sack or in the outfield. Both as yet have failed to hit their batting stride, no doubt a year from the game may be the cause, but come July both will likely be back to their old batting form.

Ivan "Lefty" Gibson, the locals' only southpaw, has seen relief duty in two games this season and did well in both tests. "Lefty" is showing plenty of stuff right now and near perfect control.

Catcher Stan Winger is the leading home run hitter of the club, having poled out two four-ply base knocks in the campaign this spring. "Wing" has been taking a lot of punishment behind the dish but comes right back for more and doesn't have to take a back seat to any receiver in the North York circuit.

Pantry Park, S.S. school grounds, appears to be in better shape now than in several seasons due to a combination of work by several of the players and manager. The steam roller has been over the infield, a new screen installed and the grass cut so you can expect some tidy ball games over there. The midges have home games every Wednesday, while each Friday evening the junior baseballers hold the fort. Stouffville is coming this Friday.

Sutton has a junior baseball club for the first time this season and is going to try its luck in the North York Lions league. Newmarket Junior Redmen will open their season at Sutton park next Monday, June 23.

Deepest sympathy goes to Johnny "Red" Palmateer at this time in the loss of his father, Frank Palmateer. Frank was always a willing worker for the ball club and assisted many times with the transportation. Red has taken part in one game this season, that against Stouffville in the opener, making one appearance at the platter and coming through with a single.

Rats For Almost All

There are almost as many rats in the United States as there are people—130,000,000, as compared with a human population in the neighborhood of 140,000,000. United States Fish and Wild Life Director Albert M. Day says they cause $200,000,000 damage to food alone each year.

FEMININE FANFARE

Newmarket ladies opened their schedule last week at Stouffville. The Newmarket team appears to be too experienced for the other teams at this stage at least and if they are preparing to go outside the local group will need stiffer competition. It's too bad from the fans' point of view, too, but it does illustrate you can't build a team in a few months. The Newmarket girls have kept playing despite difficulties over the past few years and the results are apparent.

Gordy Slout, Aurora, comes in for some well merited thanks this week. New blue and white sweaters, Aurora, Mercurys, and satin trunks, black trimmed with red, have been supplied for the team by the genial garagemen. He has gone further, too. He's supplying a car for every outside game. According to manager Case, despite more tires and gas it's harder to get cars to transport teams than ever before. Bruce Winterstein, Stouffville, backer of the Stouffville club, deserves a mention, too. He's right on the sidelines yelling encouragement to his youthful proteges and the accent on youth with Stouffville, while it may not win many games this year, will pay off in later years. We don't know what the combined age of the Stouffville team amounts to, but young Helen Snowball, who plays right field, won't be 12 until July and substitute Joan Haines is but 11. Erla Holden is 14 and also Sheila Tait, while "Weiner" Miller, the pig-tailed hurler, is but 15. The rest are 15 or 16 except for catcher Gertrude Slack. Stouffville has a woman coach in the person of Mrs. Bob Bone who knows the game from A to Z. By the end of the season the kids will be greatly improved and you can look for a championship ball club about 1949. It's an interesting experiment and deserving of support for it takes real sportsmanship to keep on taking a beating and coming back for more.

A former Aurora girl athlete, Mrs. Campbell McKenzie (Marjorie Whitehead) is fast developing into one of the leading women golfers in Ontario. A member of the Toronto Ladies' club at Thornhill, Mrs. McKenzie is one of the leading players of her club and competed in the Ontario Ladies' Championship. Mrs. Tony Smith, sister of the late Gordy Taylor and a former resident of the district, is another woman player who is coming to the fore as a member of Summit. They tell me there are one or two girls playing at the Highlands who only needed a bit of tutoring before being ready for outside competition.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS DEPARTMENT

Hal Leary and Dick Pearson from Sutton were at the Newmarket vs. Aurora game on Monday night and they talked so well that the district junior clubs will admit Sutton into the second half of the schedule and play a single schedule with the northerners who claim to have some pretty fair prospect. It's a good many years since "Doc" Leary pitched for Aurora, with his brother Everett as a battery mate. We hate to admit just how long ago that is. It's over 20 years since he pitched his last game in the Aurora park as a member of the Sutton club. His last pitching performance was when he was 40 and you can guess when that was. Leary and Pearson should make a great combination in manstroing the Lake Simcoe kids and if the past is any criterion, Sutton will come up with a neat club. Bob Bell pulled the reply that stopped all questioning following the Aurora vs. Newmarket joust on Monday. Bell, who umpires a pretty fair game, was called to task by several of the Newmarket players over a decision after the game was over. "Don't you ever make an error or misjudge a ball?" Bob asked his hecklers. "Sure we do," sez the hecklers. "Well, why can't the umpire make a mistake, too. We're human. None of us are perfect," replied Bob. There was no answer. Could be we expect too much from the arbiters who are poorly paid and take a lot of abuse.

Ronnie Ruwe, former Markham junior hockeyist and last year with Boston Olympics, has been reinstated for soccer. Ruwe was suspended for punching a referee last year. He's with East End Canadians again. In goal for the soccer club is Norm Briley who played in goal for Newmarket camp soccerites and also was in the nets for Scarborough Rangers who won the district O.H.A. junior group two years ago. Davis Edwards, first year med. former Newmarket high basketballer, and Charlie Seath, former Aurora high cager, now in first year P.H. & E. at Varsity, both made the grade in their examinations. Jack Life, ex-Newmarket camp hockeyist and sprinter, was another who did all right in the text book circuit. George Slong, who Charlie Ryan hopes to trot out on occasions for the Hill softballers, is whizzing the pill for Bowlers in the Hamilton city senior circuit and doing a fine chore, too. Inglewood is currently leading the North York lacrosse league, now termed a senior B circuit by the O.L.A. The Peel county boys appear to have too much class for the rest of the teams or else they are in better condition right now. Anyway they have bowled over Woodbridge twice in decisive fashion and whipped Maple in significant fashion. Combines, having player trouble, are at the bottom of the heap but should come along better once the boys turn out regularly. Harry Sutton and Murray Hunt, Aurora, are both in action with the "Bines" and pretty well regarded around the circuit. Stew Mahay, who was with Combines last year, and Tex Lunan, ex-Hill player, are both lost to lacrosse by virtue of new jobs with the T.T.C. as motormen. Eric Cradock, Toronto broker and owner of Northdowns Farms at Aurora, has been elected to the executive of the Big Four football group. Mr. Cradock is one of the backers of the Montreal Alouettes football club. Wild Scott, ex-Aurora junior hockeyist and well known northern referee, was a delegate at the Canadian Legion meeting at Aurora. Cravenhurst will represent that district in the B series of Legion softball. He reports Bob Scott, sturdy defence star of the district O.H.A. group in the early 30's, is running a summer resort up north and rolling in the greenbacks. Scott was one of the few imports brought in by Aurora who really lived up to advance reports. He foresook a hockey career for banking.

Herman Gilroy, who shortly leaves for Vancouver, will be missed by the sporting fraternity throughout North York. "Gill" in his day was active in hockey and other sports. Then he promoted sports at Aurora and carried the load of promotion and organization for many years. Later he turned to golf and is a past president and many times trophy winner of the Highlands Golf club. No need to mention that he has always been ready and eager to dip down in his pocket and contribute generously to any worthy cause. We wish him well in his new venture and after the miserable weather we have been experiencing, that balmy west coast weather with which I am familiar will be most enticing. We'll only say "au revoir".

30 WITH SADNESS

To many people in Newmarket, the name Bill Paisley is well remembered. Lieut. Paisley was stationed at Newmarket for several years and played shortstop for both the softball and baseball clubs at the camp. Discharged from the army, he entered a geology course Western U and last spring was married. With school over this year he went to Northern Saskatchewan with a survey party and word came through last week that the canoe in which he was travelling had overturned and he had been unable to cope with the heavy current. Bill Paisley was one of the finest sportsmen it has been our pleasure to meet and we know there are a good many people in Newmarket who feel the same way. Sympathy goes to Johnny Dew, manager of the King softball club and former Aurora high school athlete, in the loss of his seven-year-old son James through an unfortunate accident at Aurora. We know the fans everywhere join in this.

Lying seriously ill in Toronto and anxious to hear from his many friends is Jimmy Cummings, former captain of Aurora junior hockey club. Jim sustained a football injury some years ago but kept on playing with Ottawa Trojans and Oakwood Indians. Now it has caught up to him again and he is confined to his home with recovery a long drawn out matter. Cummings was a fine competitor in every sport and he's putting up a real fight to come back fit and strong. Let's hope he makes it.

SHOES

Insley's store has hundreds of pairs of shoes for men and boys. No wonder Insley's style leader store has such a shoe business year after year! This store is properly merchandised and priced correctly.

TAKE TWO STARTS

The Newmarket Veterans' softball team defeated Richmond Hill 12-11 Tuesday, June 10, and Aurora 12-10 on June 17. Line-up against Richmond Hill: Gibney, Legge, Walsh, Smith, Cain, Stan Evans, Eves, Mosler and VanZant; against Aurora: Gibney, Legge, Walsh, Smith, Dillman, Evans, F. Evans, S. VanZant, C. VanZant, B. The Vets play Langstaff on Tuesday.

Aurora Jrs. Win Opener Against Newmarket 4-3

Aurora juniors won their first baseball game of the league schedule on Monday evening by scoring a narrow 4-3 over Newmarket. Lefty Jack Andrews on the mound for Aurora struck out ten in seven innings and gave up five hits and ended a hectic last inning by fanning Palmateer with the winning run perched on second and two out. Bill Hopper pitched six and a half innings for George Haskett's nine, being relieved by Dales after a barrage of Aurora hits. Bill McGhee and Loring Doolittle along with Mickey Sutton provided the Aurora batting offensive, while Tommy McHale was the big punch for the canaltowners. McGhee following with another hit but was out going to second. Ellis fanned and Jim McDonald drew a walk, streaking to second and coming home on Kyle's double to left. Lefty Gibson started a belated drive in the seventh after two were out. Broughton, batting for Thoms got a life as Doolittle butterfingered a circus catch in centre and Gibson scored. Johnston walked, but Palmateer whiffed to end it all.

Aurora Ladies Score 21-10 Win At Stouffville

Aurora ladies' softball club scored a 21-10 win over Stouffville girls in their first start of the season Thursday night. It was a free-hitting contest with jittery fielding on both sides. Southpaw Mary Gilkes pitched a steady, if not spectacular game for Aurora and was accorded fine support by Joyce Foote, Jo-lyne Doolittle, and Vanetta Maaten. Gwen Myke was stunned when a thrown ball from the crowd struck her on the head. For Stouffville, centrefielder Erlene Paisley was a standout.

Aurora: McIntosh 1b, Case c, Pattenden rf, Maaten lf, Saigle 3b, Lawson ss, Gilkes p, Doolittle 2b, Foote cf.

Stouffville: Miller p, Hodgins lf, Holden ss, Paisley cf, Snowball rf, Jennings 3b, Tait 1b, Slack c, Baker 2b.

TO APPROACH COUNCIL

Aurora — A small but enthusiastic meeting discussed recreation problems on Tuesday evening and decided to submit a brief to the Aurora town council, giving facts, and what has been accomplished to date, and requesting council to give leadership in the matter and officially call a public meeting. The brief will be composed by a committee composed of Norman Bretz, Dr. A. W. Holland, Mrs. James Murray, Mrs. R. H. Corner, and Mrs.

Newmarket Hardballers Win From Aurora 10-2

By GEORGE HASKETT, JR.

Coasting along on the crest of a slashing nine-hit attack, Newmarket Redmen gained their second home triumph at Pantry Park Friday evening. The Redmen won a 10-2 victory over the visiting Aurora Lions.

Don Brown went the route for the local squad, holding the visitors well in check and allowing but six hits. It was Brown's first chore on the hilltop and he made his initial effort a winning one. Aurora used the services of two of its moundsmen, Ron Simmons and "Lefty" Andrews. Andrews worked the last inning and held the Redmen scoreless.

The Lions opened their scoring in the first, Jack Andrews crossing the plate on Ron Simmons' single. In the third the visitors picked up their second and final tally when Jerry Simmons came in with a run.

The Redmen marked up a single tally in their half of the first to counter the Aurora run, Grant Blight coming in from second on Stan Winger's hit. In the third the Redmen blasted out a comfortable margin, catcher Stan Winger realizing a baseball player's dream by driving out a booming homer over the centre field fence with three mates aboard. Tommy McHale, Jim Rutledge and Grant Blight all crossed the dish in front of Winger. It was home run number two of the season for Winger.

Going into the fourth, the local forces plated another four runs to snuff out what hopes the Aurora nine had of getting back into the hunt. Motts Thoms, Don Brown, Jim Rutledge and Grant Blight made the round trip.

The North York GARDENER

By JOHN DALY

Vice President, Newmarket Horticultural Society

Now that the growing season is underway you will be kept busy. Unfortunately weeds grow as fast as flowers but if in your border, you use the hoe one week and the cultivator the next, they will not make headway. Insect pests will be plentiful and vegetable spraying should be done about every ten days. The new D.D.T. flower sprays are the most effective.

Spring flowering shrubs should be pruned now. Cut out the old wood and the weak growth and thus force new growth for next year. You will be surprised both in the quality and quantity of the bloom. Climbing roses are included in this treatment.

The tulip season is drawing to a close and so a word of advice regarding them. As long as it is green the bulb is growing and the flower bud is developing for next year. Removal of the foliage stops this development and disappointment next spring will be inevitable. Looking back over the spring display, I find myself planning for next year. However, anticipation is one of the joys of gardening.

LUCK'S ROADWAY

St. and Park Ave., he would prefer to see the roadway come out at Millard Ave. Councillor Luck said that if no cars were allowed to park on Main St. north of Park Ave., there would be no bottleneck, the road in front of the funeral parlors and the offices of the two doctors would be clear and also the road in front of the fire hall.

Opposes Plan

Reeve Arthur Evans was strongly opposed to the plan. "The whole Main St. will be changed within two years anyway," he said. "This is not supposition, it is definitely coming. All county roads running through towns are going to revert to the towns and the county will have to put the street in shape the way the town wants it. If we put the new road through, the work on the Main St. will still have to be done. And where are we going to get the money to build this new road?"

"Widdifield Park will be ready for use as a parking lot in a short time and it is only a matter of a few years until Davis Dr. is paved and a whole new business section will be opened up at the north end. If we let things take their course and fix up the north end, we will be all right. The biggest difficulty at present is the parking on the Main St. and that will be cleared up shortly. I cannot see that putting this road through will solve any of our difficulties," Reeve Evans said.

"It is conceded everywhere that a 66' Main St. is necessary for a town of this size and where can Main St. be widened to make a 66' roadway?" Councillor Luck asked. "The expense of changing Main St. will be prohibitive and what guarantee have we that business will move to the north end? An industrial section and a business section never go together, they are kept separate in every town. There is no other town in Canada of this size with just one narrow Main St."

No Cost

Reeve Evans replied that if the Main St. is fixed up by the county, it will be fixed at no cost to the Newmarket taxpayer. "If we pass this thing a heavy expense will be incurred in the mere preparation of the by-law that would follow," Mayor Vale warned. "If anyone has any objection to the plan, he should state it now." Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said he believed the plan had some merit. "I do not believe that Newmarket is at present in keeping with other towns of the same size," he said. "I believe there is merit in Mr. Luck's proposal until the point where the roadway comes out at Park Ave. On the other hand, to put the road through to Queen St. would be an expensive proposition."

"As Reeve Evans has stated, the tendency in the county council is for the county to give back to the municipalities involved those county roads which pass through the municipalities in which case the roads have to be put in first class shape. I cannot see where the advantages which would result from the proposed new road would merit the expense."

"The repavement of Main St., which is being carried on at present, will be a big improvement in itself," Councillor Frank Bowser said. "With Widdifield Park going through, we will have real parking facilities within a year."

"I don't think the town is prepared to incur the expense," Councillor Birrell said. Councillor George M. Byers said that because of his position as owner of some of the land which would have to be expropriated, he preferred to make no comment.

Councillor Edwards said that in her opinion the town should look to the future more than it has been doing and make progressive improvements. Councillor Luck said he would like to see the north end of the town with just as many stores as the south end. "But there must be 'loops' to relieve the traffic congestion," he insisted. He said Widdifield Park would not relieve the traffic problem, "and the congestion at Timothy and Main Sts. will be terrific," he said. "It is the worst possible corner in town to delour traffic from the main street. It will just cause another big bottleneck."

Mayor Joseph Vale called for the motion to be put to the vote and Councillors Luck and Edwards were its only supporters.
